Mexico.- President Enrique Peña Nieto congratulated Dr. José Sarukhán for having received the Tyler Award for Environmental Achievement 2017.

The Chief Executive said that this is welcome for his work in favor of biodiversity.

"It is a well-deserved recognition of his work in favor of biodiversity and his commitment to institutional strengthening," he wrote in his Twitter account.

José Sarukhán was selected as the winner of the Tyler Environmental Achievement Award 2017, presented by the Tyler Foundation and the University of Southern California (USC).
